

2012 Doctor Vacancy at Mt Hutt Ski Area

Situated in Canterbury, New Zealand, Mt Hutt is renowned for its long snow seasons and enviable lifestyle. The purpose of the ski area doctor is to provide medical treatment for injured guests and staff on-site at the Ski Area medical facility. The position runs from early June to mid October.

It is essential that applicants for this position possess a comprehensive knowledge of accident and emergency triage, and have practice management skills. Experience with sport injuries and/or orthopaedics is preferred. Applicants must be comfortable working in an alpine environment in a variety of weather conditions. Good knowledge of ski area snow conditions, and the ability to ski or snowboard in all weather is an advantage, however not a requirement.

Applicants must be a New Zealand registered doctor. Assistance for registration and work visa sponsorship will be provided for successful international applicants.
